Court Upholds Hindenburg in Prussian Case

Removal of Government
Sustained in Leipzig Ruling

REICH BEWILDERED
Prussian Ministry Not Deprived of Reichstag Seats

Leipzig, Germany.—(P)—The supreme court upheld President Von Hindenburg and Chancellor Von Papen today, ruling that their removal of the Prussian government last July and the substitution of a federal commissioner was constitutional, but declaring at the same time that the federal government cannot withdraw from the deposed Prussian ministry its right to represent the state in its dealings with the Prussian diet.

The several political camps, except on those on the side of the government, generally rated the decision as ambiguous and this afternoon's newspapers were unusually in agreement in declaring that it was a fifty-fifty ruling for both sides.

Political Germany appeared to be bewildered over the verdict of the court. What stumped political leaders was the two-edged nature of the verdict.

It was noted that the court held the temporary taking over of the Prussian ministry by the chancellor was justified, but decided at the same time that the deposed ministers were conceded the right to continue to represent Prussia officially.

Inquiries among the various party leaders brought the stock reply, "we must first study the verdict before announcing our position."

Government circles, however, hastened to assure the Associated Press they considered the verdict a complete victory for Chancellor Von Papen. On the other hand one retired minister of justice described the verdict as giving Prussia two governments.

Definition Not Given

In an opinion accompanying the verdict the court declared it declined to define the limits within which Article 48 of the constitution, sometimes called the "dictatorship clause," could be invoked in the present case except as concerned the right of the deposed ministers to represent the state of Prussia in its dealings with the national government.

The court also declined to decide whether the Prussian government had failed to fulfill its duties, thereby necessitating intervention by the federal authorities.

Government spokesmen regarded the verdict as complete justification of the chancellor's course. Even the court's reservation regarding the right of the deposed ministers to represent the state does not affect the federal government adversely, they maintained for the chancellor always has treated this issue as an open question and never claimed or exercised the right.

All administrative and other measures taken by the chancellor as commissioner for Prussia or by his appointees, the government representatives said, are unaffected by the court decision.

Silent on Debts

London.—(P)—Neville Chamberlain, chancellor of the exchequer, declined to make a statement in the house of commons today regarding Great Britain's war debt to the United States.

President Favors Program to Fight Against Diseases

Sees Battle to Cut Down
Contagious Diseases
As 'Economy'

Washington.—(P)—President Hoover favors government encouragement of a program to reduce contagious diseases "as a constructive measure of public economy."

He supported this action before the American Public Health association last night, in a brief address to the opening meeting of a four-day session here. It was presided over by Surgeon General Hugh S. Cummings of the public health service.

Mr. Hoover said that after his experience in the 1927 Mississippi flood area, he had called conferences out of which "evolved the idea of the most effective means of strengthening the public health service in harmony with the spirit of our American institutions."

"By this I mean the idea of the country health unit," the president continued. "That is, that every county in the United States should set up for itself as its minimum health organization, a unit consisting of a doctor, a sanitary engineer and a trained nurse. These units were established in 100 counties in the flood area."

"By every means within my reach I have ever since promoted the idea of establishing these units in every one of our 3,000 counties in the United States. Although I am generally opposed to federal subsidies to the states, yet I have regarded contagion as one interstate question and have recommended federal contributions to such a universal service."

"I am in favor, as a constructive measure of public economy, of a program to be carried out on such wise lines, to reduce contagious disease with government encouragement. If communicable disease could be reduced by even one-third, such a reduction would repay the country more than a thousand fold its cost. That is the sheer economics of it. But far beyond that would be the gain in human comfort and human happiness."

U. S. Steel Declares Dividend on Preferred

New York.—(P)—The United States Steel Corp. today ordered disbursement of the regular quarterly dividend of $1.75 on the preferred stock, maintaining intact the 31-year dividend record on this issue.

Three months ago, the directors had issued a statement warning that it was "apparent that improvement in business and earnings must in the future determine dividend action on the preferred stock." Dividends on the common shares were omitted six months ago.

Floating Isle Threat To Ships on Pacific

San Diego, Calif.—(P)—A perambulating island is the latest menace to mariners of the Pacific. Sea captains were warned by the hydrographic office today officers of the steel voyager had sighted "A floating island about an half-acre in extent" 1,300 miles south of San Diego. The wandering isle, Hydrographers said, was crowned by trees 20 feet high.

Deny Right of Service Body In Rate Case

Commission Has No Authority to Set Aside
Increases, Claim

HEARING IS ASSAILED

Phone Company Attorney
Says Evidence Has
Refuted Charges

Madison.—(P)—The contention that the State Public Service commission has no authority to set aside utility rate increases granted on mistaken or misleading evidence was argued before the commission today by Edwin S. Mack, counsel for the Wisconsin Telephone company.

About a month ago the commission announced that its predecessor, the old railroad commission, some of which date back to 1924.

There was no presumption in the arguments of the truth or falsity of the charges that the telephone company had misled the old commission. That question is to be settled in another case which is now pending.

Attorney Mack objected to any kind of a hearing today on the ground that the telephone company has submitted evidence in the record that the charges are untrue but Commissioner David E. Lillenthal, permitted the arguments to proceed solely on questions of law and not facts.

Mack contended that the only function of the commission is to determine future rates and that when a utility rate is once fixed as reasonable and is not set aside by a court the commission's findings becomes the "law of the land" even though it has made a mistake.

If the commission should desire to take some action in regard to rates fixed its only power under the statutes, Mack argued, would be to determine new rates on the basis of facts as they now exist and not as they were when present rates were established.

Attorneys representing four cities among the 37 affected were present for the arguments and Mack argued that the city attorney for Green Bay, opposed Mack's view.

Janesville was represented by City Attorney R. J. Cunningham, Appleton by City Attorney A. C. Bosser, Sheboygan by Attorney H. Gruhle and Oconomowoc by City Attorney Vilas J. Rasmussen. The other communities did not put in appearances.

The city attorneys were given 15 days to file briefs stating their position. None but Dwyer presented any arguments. The commission then will have the question under advisement.

North Carolinians Cheer Roosevelt

Hoarseness Forces Governor to Cut Short Remarks Enroute

Aboard Roosevelt Special Enroute to Baltimore.—(P)—His voice so hoarse that he spoke with difficulty, Governor Roosevelt today made his first appearance of the campaign in North Carolina, greeting big crowds that gathered along the route of his special train.

At Southern Pines, the governor appeared on the rear platform to the accompaniment of cheers and shouts of greetings.

"About the only thing I lost down in Georgia is my voice," said the governor, smiling broadly. "I am confident of the result on Nov. 8 and even more confident of the result in the state of North Carolina."

That brought another big cheer and yells of "you're right, Roosevelt."

North Carolina was one of the states which broke from the "solid south" to go for Hoover in 1928.

Members of the governor's party expressed themselves as concerned about his voice. They made plans to spare it as much as possible by having him cut short his remarks at the various stops scheduled in North Carolina and Virginia during the day. Hope was expressed that with care the hoarseness would not be severe enough to handicap him greatly in delivering the last big speech of this campaign swing at Baltimore tonight.

Moves Censure Vote For British Premier

London.—(P)—George Lansbury, who was elected head of the Labor party today succeeding Arthur Henderson, who resigned, moved a vote of censure in the house of commons this afternoon against the national government.

The MacDonald government, he charged, has forfeited the confidence of the country "by failure to deal effectively with the economic situation and by imposition of the means test on unemployed receiving the dole, and by pursuit of an empire policy opposed to restoration of world trade."

The condition of the mass of the British people, he said, is worse now than it was when the national government took office a year ago.

Watch Movements Found Concealed In Rabbit Skins

New York.—(P)—Twenty-two bales of rabbit skins, each containing at its center from 1,000 to 1,500 Swiss watch movements, were seized today by federal investigators in a stable at 305 W. 26th-st. The federal officers valued the watch movements at $100,000.

Henry Saks and Richard Bieshuns, believed by the raiders to be the owners of the Samuel Glick Trading Corp., which occupies the stable, were arrested.

The snatched watch movements were brought to America Sunday on the steamer Black Gull of the Black Diamond line, from Antwerp, Belgium.

The agents said that rabbit skins were undoubtedly chosen to hide watch movements in because these skins come into the country duty free.

They said that Bieshuns was recently released from Atlanta penitentiary where he served a year and a day for smuggling Swiss watch movements into the country in boxes of chocolate. They said he was known among smugglers as "The Candy Kid."

Jurors Hoping to Reach Agreement In Berrie Trial

Indicate to Judge That Verdict May Be Reached
In Poisoning Case

Muskogee, Okla.—(P)—The jury deliberating the murder case of the Rev. E. A. Berrie, charged with poisoning his wife, told District Judge W. J. Crump at noon today there was a "likelihood" a verdict would be reached.

Muskogee, Okla.—(P)—Twelve men, reported divided nine to three for acquittal, today resume their efforts to reach a verdict in the poison murder trial of the Rev. S. A. Berrie.

After seven hours deliberation, the jury retired last night without reporting to District Judge W. J. Crump, whose instructions were for acquittal or death or life imprisonment.

Exhorting the jurors to remember "the wages of sin is death," County Attorney Phil K. Oldham declared the 52-year-old hymn writer minister poisoned his 50-year-old wife last March because of intimacies with a girl in her teens, whom he married less than two months later.

Attorney G. Watkins, the preacher's counsel, warned:

"Don't wake up and find, after you've turned on the juice, that you've made a mistake. . . . We've got every circumstance in the world that Mrs. Berrie died of uremic poisoning. . . . The prosecution has not proved where Reverend Berrie even gave her a glass of water."

M. D. Hartsell, defense attorney, asserted the pastor, unfrocked for alleged heresy before his wife's death, was being persecuted by "men as cunning as minks."

Calling the minister a "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde," Prosecution Attorney S. C. Cavender said Berrie had "lived a lie all his life," using "religion as a cloak for his nefarious schemes and his crimes."

Berrie and his bride listened attentively to the attorney's arguments, the minister shaking his head as Oldham asserted he had admitted "illicit relations" with Ida Bess Bright, comely 19-year-old Sunday school teacher, whom he married May 17.

The first Mrs. Berrie collapsed at a church service after taking a sedative capsule, which the state contends contained poison, and was taken home to die in convulsions last March 21.

Berrie, laying his troubles to "nosy women and malicious gossipers," has remained confident of his acquittal. He has given notice of appeal to the general assembly of the Cumberland Presbyterian church from the ouster action of the Indiana synod, but said he does not want to hold another pastorate.

Fifteen Months in Russia

This is the eighth of ten articles by Ellen Moore Watt, daughter of Dr. L. H. Moore, Appleton, who spent fifteen months in Soviet Russia with her husband, James Watt, an American engineer engaged by the Soviet government to assist in development of the coal industry.

Copyright 1932, by Ellen Moore Watt

One five day week merged gratefully into another five day week in the engineering colony in Kharkov. It was a great adventure—this grand stand review of Soviet Russia. But the fear that was felt in the air hung heavily on American shoulders, and the want and sordidness seen in each doorway grew stark before American eyes.

Life in our apartments moved on pleasantly enough. Here there was no deprivation nor fear. Indeed, it was the simplest procedure to fix by the door the shades of all one's windows, shutting out the Soviet Union, and to live entirely within the walls of a fragment of the U. S. A., fortified by enough victrola records, imported food, and dancing, card playing, gossiping compatriots to make the location of Soviet Russia outside our door seem the incongruity rather than our presence in it.

But whether one wished, as did a few of us, to study the great drama being enacted beyond our American windows, or whether one chose to hear only such snatches of it as might drift in thru the cracks,

Japanese to Propose Plan For Arms Cut

Suggestion to be Apart
From Those of Britain
And United States

DETAILS ARE SECRET

Expected to be Complete
Enough to Stand Beside Other Plans

BY GLENN BABB

(Copyright, 1932, Associated Press)
Tokio.—(P)—Japan has decided to propose her own comprehensive scheme for reduction of naval armaments to the disarmament conference at Geneva, a high official told the Associated Press today.

The Japanese plan, it was understood, will neither accept nor reject the American and British schemes for cuts in naval strength, but will offer a distinctly Japanese suggestion.

The details of the plan, even an idea of its general character, are being held in the closest secrecy for the time being.

The Associated Press was informed, however, that the scheme embraces all the naval categories, and will be complete enough to stand alongside the Hoover and Baldwin proposals.

(President Hoover has suggested a nearly one-third general cut in armaments. This envisaged reduction by one-third of all battleships—both tonnage and number—under the Anglo-American-Japanese naval treaty; reductions in cruiser tonnage of aircraft carriers, cruisers and destroyers by one-fourth, and submarines by one-third, with no limitation having more than 35,000 tons of submarines.)

Great Britain's disarmament plan involves placing the Washington and London naval treaties establishing ratios between Great Britain, the United States and Japan at approximately 10-10-6 respectively, in a world treaty. Great Britain adheres to the policy of abolition of submarines and certain methods of warfare, but is opposed to limitation by reduction of specific categories of naval vessels.)

The cabinet's approval of the Japanese proposals, which it was understood the naval ministry had already drafted, was given at a session today. Immediately afterward the plan was cabled to the Japanese delegation at Geneva.

It is uncertain whether the plan will be divulged prior to the convening of the disarmament conference at Geneva next February, but the Japanese delegation at Geneva or ambassadors in various capitals may apprise the principal naval powers of the scheme soon.

Assails "Half-Baked" Ideas of Roosevelt

Washington.—(P)—Samuel M. Hastings, president of the Illinois Manufacturers association, said today in a statement through the Republican National committee that "a change would be disastrous when it involved the acceptance of ideas now being peddled about the country by the Democratic nominee."

Hastings, chairman of the finance committee of the Dayton Scale company, added:

"I am for President Hoover because at a critical time like this it would be unthinkable that we consider the removal of a man who knows the job and who is actively doing something to produce results."

BULLETIN

Washington.—(P)—President Hoover will address a public meeting in Indianapolis Friday night and return to the capital immediately thereafter.

Thomas Cheered by Gains of His Party

New York.—(P)—Norman Thomas, Socialist candidate for president, returned today from a five weeks campaign tour "greatly encouraged," he said, with improved party organization and confident that the Socialist party will poll its greatest vote in the November election.

A crowd estimated by police at 2,000 persons greeted Thomas when he arrived at the Pennsylvania station. His campaign tour took him through 46 states in which he delivered 125 speeches.

Storm Blamed for Two Deaths in California

Los Angeles.—(P)—Strong winds, reaching a velocity estimated at 50 miles an hour, in some spots, were blamed today for the death of a boy, thousands of dollars in property damage and indirectly led to the death of a man engaged in a search for two hikers who escaped from a brush fire which periled their lives.

Felix Moreno, 10, Ontario, received fatal injuries when he was swept from a sidewalk by a gust of wind into the path of an automobile.

Charles White, 40, Arcadia, engaged in a search for P. R. Lundy, Jr., Monrovia banker, and Lloyd Nelson, Arcadia school teacher, was killed in a 150-foot fall to the bottom of a canyon on the slopes of Monrovia peak.

KILLED IN ACCIDENT

Milwaukee.—(P)—Patrolman Raymond Latus, 28, was fatally injured last night when his automobile crashed into the rear of a truck driven by Jacob Meyer, 23, who had stopped near a street intersection.

Milwaukee Bank Em-

$22,500 in Check

LOOT IS VALUELESS

Four Robbers Make Fruitless Raid at Street Crossing

Milwaukee.—(P)—Two employees of the East Side bank, enroute to the clearing house, were held up today and robbed of $22,500 in checks, of no use to the men who stole them.

The four robbers operated in a manner to convince police they were members of the same gang which held up two messengers of the Badger State bank on Aug. 21, obtaining $21,000 in cash and negotiable securities.

Elmer Preuss, assistant cashier at the bank, and Martin Peterson, custodian of the bank building, were only a block from the bank when a blue sedan, bearing license plates stolen from a car in Kenosha earlier in the day, crowded their car to the curb at a street intersection.

Two men, one armed with a shot-gun and the other with a revolver, jumped out, opened the doors of Preuss' car and snatched the bundle of checks. They also took an empty satchel.

"Give us that . . . dough," one of the robbers said.

One of the men grabbed the ignition key from Preuss' car and the pair swung aboard their own car as it sped away. The action was so swift that employees of a filling station across the street did not see what had happened.

Investigation revealed that the license plates of the robber car had been stolen from an automobile owned by Ruben Tower, an employee of the Simmons Co., Kenosha. Tower had parked his car in front of the factory at 7 a. m. and did not know it had been taken until police notified him. The license number is 523-755.

Hunger Marchers Nearing London

2,000 Unemployed Prepare to Present Demands
At British Capital

London.—(P)—Two thousand jobless "hunger marchers" closed in upon London today to present demands for abolition of the "means test" which obliges every recipient of the dole to prove that he has no other means of support.

It has been hard going through incessant rain along muddy roads from Scotland, Wales and many parts of England, and early this morning the sun shone only to hide behind clouds which threatened another downpour.

Tonight the marchers will camp at such nearby places as Croydon and St. Albans, converging tomorrow afternoon at Hyde Park where there will be a great demonstration of welcome by the London unemployed.

Then on Sunday afternoon the jobless will gather in Trafalgar square where there will be speeches. Many in the ranks are wearing red rosettes and the charge is openly made in several London newspapers that the march was fostered by funds from Moscow.

New Jersey Gives Wild Welcome to Alfred E. Smith

"Happy Warrior" Centers
Attack on Republican
Prohibition Stand

Newark, N. J.—(P)—Jubilant rang in the Democratic camp today over the wild open-armed welcome that the state Democracy gave its idol "the Happy Warrior" when he came back last night to Jersey to sound his first major call for the election of Roosevelt and Garner.

One man died of a heart attack and 60 were injured in a jamming crush of cheering humanity. Democratic leaders said it was one of the greatest political demonstrations in New Jersey's history.

Inside the armory a throng estimated by police at 20,000 heard and saw him. Outside, an hour before his arrival, Police Commissioner Edward Reilly estimated that 60,000 persons choked the streets that later became the triumphal pathway of Alfred E. Smith.

Criticizing President Hoover as "the dry leader of the United States," he devoted much of his speech to ridiculing the Republicans on prohibition. He assailed them on charges of bigotry, deception and hypocrisy.

Smith claimed authorship of the Democratic repeal plank and assailed the Republican plank as holding out "a sop to the wetts and a little bone to the dries." He called on New Jersey to make the senate Democratic at the next session by electing Percy Stewart to succeed the late Dwight Morrow.

Praises Nominees

And in conclusion, he said the "election of the Democratic ticket is the best way to solve these problems and the best way to bring back prosperity—the election of Roosevelt and Garner."

His return to the armory where he made a prohibition speech in 1928 before the aspects of the homecoming of a hero. The crowd that jammed the cavernous drill shed, with its bunting draped rafters and its crisp-crisp of brilliant spotlights, cheered wildly.

On his way from the Holland tunnel in Jersey City, the thousands jammed the streets, welcoming Smith with horns and fireworks.

In the foggy stretch through the Passaic and Hackensack meadows, there was a reception for him. In

"Disguised Destroyer"

Found to be Whaler

San Pedro, Calif.—(P)—The waterfront at San Pedro settled down today to the usual routine after tasting the excitement of reports that a "mysterious ship," in fact, "a disguised destroyer," was trailing the maneuvers of the United States fleet.

It turned out to be much ado about nothing, naval officers said. The ship was a coast whaler which has been cruising in search of whales and not without success. She has averaged a whale a day since Oct. 5, the largest being a 90-ton sulphur bottom mammal.

Polluted Air Health Threat, Expert Finds

Ranks With Polluted Milk And Water in Causing Diseases

Washington—(P)—Polluted air, preventing human beings from receiving their due share of ultra-violet rays, today was ranked with polluted milk and water as a health menace.

Dr. Fred C. Tonney of the Chicago Health department, told the Public Health association meeting here that ill effects on health of shutting off the sun's ultra-violet light by smoke, soot, dust, fogs and other impurities are more serious and widespread than generally realized.

Dr. Haven Emerson of Columbia university, reported there are even indications that it may be a contributing factor in causing rheumatic fever that results in illness and death of many children. The amount of heart disease in children caused by rheumatic fever falls off steadily from Boston south to Atlanta, he said, seeming to correspond to the increasing amount of sunshine as one moves south. Decreased sunshine may increase activity of the rheumatic fever virus. There is no rheumatic fever in Puerto Rico, Dr. Emerson said, which has plentiful sunshine.

Dr. Tonney explained that smoke palls hanging over some cities, especially in winter, often have such far-reaching and unsuspected effects as making teeth more liable to decay, endangering health of mothers before and after child birth, and lowering resistance to disease. Rickets, due to lack of sunshine, is one of the most prevalent of childhood diseases.

Sunshine Is Vital

Layers of children's teeth built up when sunshine is deficient lack lime and are easily attacked by decay which spreads to the healthier parts of the teeth, Dr. Tonney said. He added that lack of vitamin D, supplied by ultra-violet light, prevents mothers from absorbing from their food the extra calcium and phosphorus the nursing period. Dr. Emerson found that children who have had rickets are especially susceptible to bronchitis, pneumonia, measles, whooping cough convulsions and tuberculosis.

"We can now provide a health motive for the clearing of the skies," Dr. Tonney asserted, "a motive as fundamental and far reaching as those that brought about the control of water-borne and milk-borne disease."

A new bacteria counting machine that shows the amount of bacteria and other impurities in air was exhibited by W. F. Wells of the Harvard School of Public Health. It separates bacteria from a stream of air by centrifugal force on the principle of a cream separator.

Scientists suggested the machine would be useful in insuring purity of air in "air-conditioning" systems, removing pollens from air for the benefit of hay fever sufferers, and in studying the tiny "droplets" sprayed from the mouth in coughing and sneezing. Scientists suspect these droplets help spread colds, influenza and infantile paralysis.

Eggs Now Above Pre-War Level

Prices are 132 Per Cent Higher Than Low Point Of Last June

Madison—(P)—Prices on eggs in Wisconsin are now 132 per cent higher than the low point of last June and 45 per cent above the price a year ago, Walter Ebling, stastician for the U. S. and Wisconsin departments of agriculture, reported today.

Eggs constitute the only important farm product in the state which is above the pre-war level and that of a year ago. During the present month, a dozen eggs at the farm was equal in value to 46 pounds of oats, 39 pounds of barley or 27 pounds of wheat.

Egg production per flock at the beginning of the present month for the United States averaged 66 per cent under last year and 34 per cent under the five-year average. In Wisconsin, the production per flock was 24 per cent under last year, Mr. Ebling reported.

Storage holdings in the United States at the beginning of the month were one-third smaller than a year ago and 32 per cent under the five-year average, he said. Storage holdings of poultry were 35 per cent under a year ago and 27 per cent below five-year average. Farm flocks of chickens in the country as a whole average 1.8 per cent smaller than last year and 28 per cent under the five-year average on Oct. 1. In Wisconsin they were 2.6 per cent under last year. Abundance and cheapness of feeds may increase egg production during the winter despite reduced size of flocks. Current egg prices will encourage heavy feeding but unless weather conditions should become favorable, it seems unlikely that the total production of eggs will greatly exceed that of last winter and it may not be as great, Mr. Ebling said.

Lay Plans for Evening Class in Hospitality

Plans are underway for organization of a class in hospitality at Appleton vocational school, according to Miss Mable Burke, head of the home economics department. If enough women enroll, the course will be offered as an evening class, she says. The course would deal with methods of entertaining at dinner parties, teas and other social functions. Instruction also would be given in menu planning.

Schneider Favors Lowering Costs

Congressman Defines Stand in Answer to Questionnaire

Congressman George J. Schneider, in a reply to a questionnaire sent out by John Borchard, state chairman of the National Organization to Reduce Public Expenditures, explains his position with respect to the reduction of public expenditures. He points out that he favors any and all reductions which can be regarded as practical economies.

"Substantial reductions can and should be made in the cost of the operation of our federal government," Mr. Schneider says. "However, no member of congress has the right to commit himself to the reduction of any specific amount in advance of having all the facts and an opportunity to make a thorough study thereof. Such information can be had only after the budget has been submitted to the congress and hearings have been held in committees of the house."

"You are assured, however, that I concur with your ultimate object in effecting substantial reductions in governmental expenditures which will not cripple efficient operation of essential services."

Times Will Improve, Agent Tells Farmers

By W. F. Winsey

Sturgeon Bay—In 1893, the year of a severe depression, the people of this country thought the times could never improve but they did and the times that farmers are now passing through will also improve and get back to normal, County Agent B. F. Rusy predicted at a meeting of farmers at Clay Banks, Monday forenoon.

The meeting is one of a series of twelve planned by the county agent and covering each township of Door county. The meetings are called for the purpose of giving farmers in the drought and grasshopper areas of Door county, who are short of feed, an opportunity to take advantage of reduced freight rates granted by the railways at the request of the county agents in those areas of Wisconsin.

East Green Bay 46, Manitowoc 0.

GAMES NEXT WEEK
Sheboygan at Fond du Lac.
Manitowoc at West Green Bay.
Oshkosh at Appleton.
Marquette at East Green Bay.

APPLETON high school football team will play its last home conference game Saturday afternoon when it meets Oshkosh high school at George A. Whiting field. The Orange has but three games on its schedule, Oshkosh here, Sheboygan there and Kaukauna, at Kaukauna on Nov. 11.

The Orange is a bit skeptical about the opponent for Saturday afternoon because of Oshkosh's recent win over West Green Bay, 7 and 6. The victory was the only one the Sawdust city boys have been able to snare this season. It is possible that Oshkosh will be defeated by rather heavy scores. Appleton came through its one sided victory over Marinette last Friday in good shape. All members of the squad got a chance to show and none caught themselves any bumps or bruises.

Lawrence at Ripon
Lawrence college, having shown before the home folks, again will hit the highways and Saturday shows at Ripon against the Crimson. Coach Ray Clapp, although very disappointed in losing last Saturday's homecoming game to Carroll, feels his squad played good ball generally and that he can make it tough for the Crimson.

The work of Walters at the signal calling position pleased Clapp and it is possible he will get another chance Saturday. Ripon has a heavy, beefy club but on which hasn't shown much in the way of offense. The Crimson last Saturday played Beloit 0 and 0 tie. Carroll beat Beloit several weeks ago.

Jack Hints He'll Make Maxie Wait

Champ Won't Fight German in Other Than Boston Ring

Boston — (P) — Champion Jack Sharkey threatens to give Max Schmeling, his outstanding challenger, a taste of his own medicine and make him wait two years for a return bout.

Johnny Buckley, the titleholder's manager, intimated as much yesterday when he warned President William F. Carey of Madison Square Garden that Sharkey was determined to defend his championship only in a Boston ring.

"When Sharkey defends his championship," Buckley told Carey, "it will be in a Boston ring and against an opponent of our selection. Sharkey is a Boston boxer, and would draw more money here than in any other city. He also believes that his home folk, who have traveled to all parts of the country to see him battle in the past, are entitled to an opportunity of watching him defend his title in a home ring."

"We are not prepared to state who Sharkey will agree to meet," Buckley continued. "There are several good heavyweights who would draw well with the champion, including Max Schmeling, Primo Carnera, Stanley Poreda and Max Baer. Jack does not intend to dodge Schmeling, but there is plenty of time for a bout with Max. Besides, Schmeling kept Jack waiting for two years before he would give him a return match."

Carey, who came here to attend a meeting of the board of directors of the Boston Garden, said:

"It looks to me as if Sharkey doesn't intend to meet Schmeling next summer."

Betty Robinson to Try Another Comeback

Evanston, Ill. — (P) — Betty Robinson, women's Olympic 100-meter champion in 1928, who nearly lost her life in an airplane accident 16 months ago, planned to start her second comeback attempt today.

After lying for months in a hospital following the air crash, Betty recovered enough to return to classes in the school of physical education at Northwestern University. Her first comeback try, an attempt to make the 1932 Olympic team, failed because of stiffness in her left arm and leg, both fractured in the accident.

She spent the summer swimming and taking special exercises, and today was ready to go back to work on the track under the direction of Coach Frank Hill.

Leaders remained leaders in the Knights of Columbus bowling league last night at Elk alleys. The DeSotos dropped two games to the Columbians but retained first place because the San Pedro did likewise. Allouez moved into a tie with the latter, however, because it won two from the Calumets.

The De Sotos won the second game of the match with a 206 by G. Schommer and dropped the third because of Bob Connelly's 224 for the Columbians and in spite of a 210 by W. Keller.

San Pedro dropped two to the Navigators. Jim Balliet set the pace for the winners with 172, 232, 187—591. Allouez moved up a notch at the expense of the Calumets. Four members of the Allouez rolled in the 500 class, H. Tillman getting 520, J. Brown 520, H. Strutz 515 and F. Felt 568.

Pintas won two from the Admirals although there was nothing exciting about the scores. Shamrocks overcame a 193 to 52 handicap and beat the Marquette in two games, while the San Salvador humbled the Santa Maria in a similar number of contests.

Big handicaps featured in the Balboa wins over the Mariners, 2 and 1. The only three and nothing win of the day was turned in by the Crusaders over the Magellans, Doc Cooney, John Morgan, Chief Prim, Tom Flanagan and Bill Fountain doing some mean kegling to cop the decision in three straight.

Jim Balliet's 232 was high game and his 591 high series. The Columbians had 980 for high team game and the Crusaders 2731 for high match score.

MATCH GAMES

Adam Goos Products, a ladies team, won a match game Sunday on Elk club alleys from the Hotel Rauff team of Oshkosh. The count was 2227 to 2010. The winners also copied the three games. H. Glasnap topped the Appleton team with 479, L. Dunn had 471 and E. Beck 446. The scores:

Hotel Rauff ..	645	658	709	2010

The Pioneer Inn team of Appleton lost to the Hotel Rauff men's team by a score of 2752 and 2604. The invaders were led by Migl who rolled 191, 200, 209—600. T. Wegner copied honors for Appleton with a 554 and C. Currie followed with 554. The scores:

10 Fatalities Reported From Football Injuries

Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK, (P) — So far as the new football code apparently has accomplished its primary purpose of making the game safer for the players, but high school and sandlot football seems just about as hazardous as before.

Of the 11 fatalities so far reported attributable directly or indirectly to football, only one has occurred in college ranks where the new rules are strictly effective. The others all came in high school or sandlot games where proper supervision and training is much more difficult and, in the case of sandlot contests at least, virtually impossible.

The 10 fatalities charged to football last year led to a series of drastic changes in the rules during the winter, eliminating the "flying wedge" on kickoffs, flying blocks and tackles, "rabbit punches" on the necks of linemen and an overhauling of the specifications for equipment to make it safer.

Loyola Fresh Dies
With the season now at the halfway mark, these rules seem to have eliminated many of the hazards of the game as it is played in the colleges under strict supervision.

The only fatality in college ranks was that of Hugh Martin Williams, 18, a freshman at Loyola of the south, who died of internal injuries after being kicked in the abdomen

Badgers Second Best Scorers in Big Ten League

Surpassed Only by Michigan; Linfor Has Counted 12 Points

MADISON — (P) — Only Michigan the favorite to win the Western conference championship, surpasses Wisconsin as the best offensive and defensive eleven in the loop this season on the basis of all games played.

The Wolverines and the Badgers are so close in the race for offensive and defensive honors that either might win by its showing in the last game of the year.

Wisconsin used the game with Coe last weekend to pile up 39 points for a total of 86 this season, just one point behind the Wolverines. On defense, only three points separate the teams, Michigan having six points against its record and the Badgers nine.

Chicago is third on both offense and defense. The Maroons have 81 points to their credit for work on offense. Northwestern comes fourth with 66 and the other teams in the conference trail in the following order: Purdue 50; Ohio State 41; Minnesota 40; Iowa 37; Illinois 36, and Indiana 33.

The lineup of the teams on defense was altered only slightly by games last weekend. Michigan leads with six points and Wisconsin and Chicago follow with nine and 14 points, respectively. Minnesota is fourth with 19 and the others trail as follows: Northwestern, 22; Purdue and Indiana 25; Ohio State 26; Illinois 28; and Iowa 74.

Joe Linfor, halfback, continued to lead his teammates as the best ground-gainer on the Badger squad. He picked up 52 yards against Coe to boost his total to 231 yards for the season. Bobby Schiller got 72 yards Saturday for a total of 132 while Tom Fontaine, another halfback, ran 53 yards for a total of 110. "Mickey" McGuire, halfback, is next with 102 yards. Jim Binham, halfback, took fifth place with 86 yards, all gained in his first game on the Badger squad Saturday.

Coe's weakness didn't give the Badgers much of an opportunity to do much punting. McGuire punted once to boost his average to 40 yards while Milo Willson, fullback, punted 40 yards Saturday for his first kick this year. John Schmeller, end, is still the best punter with an average of 42 yards.

Linfor is the outstanding point-maker on the squad. He got one touchdown and two points after touchdown against Coe to boost his total for the season to 17 points. The individual scorers are as follows:

Linfor, halfback.....	2	5	17

Remember Freddy?
Freddy Spurgeon, former second sacker for Cleveland, Kansas City and several other clubs, has received an outright release from the Springfield, Mo., team of the Western Association.

during a practice drill against the varsity.

Five high school players, two sandlot competitors, two lads competing in neighborhood games, and an academy player in Honolulu also have been fatally injured since the season opened. Here's injuries cause most of these deaths, while several others were caused by the failure of the injured player to receive treatment after minor hurts.

The complete list of fatalities so far reported, with the reported cause, follows:

Hugh Martin Williams, 18, Loyola University of New Orleans, internal injuries.

Bob Houtz, 17, Alhambra, Calif., high school senior, broken neck.

Thomas Bagwell, 16, St. Louis, high school, fractured vertebra.

Fred Winsted, 18, Funahou academy, Honolulu, cerebral hemorrhage.

George C. Dunham, 17, Minneapolis, high school, internal injuries.

Foster Stewart, 18, Anniston, Ga., high school, heart trouble.

Leland Melvin, 16, Scottsbluff, Neb., high school, general infection after bruise.

Theodore Temple, 26, Coldwater, Mich., sandlot, broken neck.

Zygmunt Sulewski, 19, Detroit, sandlot, brain concussion.

James Dunn, 12, Chicago, neighborhood game, meningitis after blow between eyes.

Raymond Gwozd, 14, Clinton, Mass., neighborhood game, blood poisoning after game.

TAKING STOCK OF WRECKAGE

Contending that he's still a darn good fighter for the shape he's in, Tommy Loughran, former light heavy king, says he won't quit the ring after the pasting Stanley Foredd recently gave him. Above you can readily see what a shape he's in. The pictures, taken in the home of his manager, Joe Smith, Lansdowne, Pa., show his left ear held in place by a bandage and his foot encased in a plaster cast. The cast resulted from his fighting Foredd with a broken bone in his foot. Inset shows a closeup of his bandaged head.

Chaff 'n Chatter

By Gordon R. McIntyre

THERE seems to be one rather uniform opinion about the Lawrence-Carroll game last Saturday—that it was the roughest staged on George A. Whiting field in some time. And the various spectators have so much to say about the punches and blows that if one could gather them all together they'd make almost a respectable boxing story.

From the press coop we saw plenty of maneuvering for pet holds on someone's legs or head or neck and although we admit we are partisans it seemed that a black headed tackle named Rich playing for the Pioneers started the whole mess.

The first thing we noticed when he was piled onto Rich after the young man had been stopped by doing a beautiful dive at Rich's head. An extended elbow was the first point of contact by Mr. Rich.

Pointers Lead Peds in Scoring

Eddie Kotal's Team Has Scored 36 Points in Three Games

MADISON — (P) — Stevens Point maintained the lead in scoring in the State Teachers college football conference last weekend but was being closely pressed for offensive honors by Superior and Milwaukee.

The pointers have scored 36 points but they have participated in three conference games, whereas Superior and Milwaukee have scored 33 points in two conference tilts.

Oshkosh is in fourth place with 26 points and Eau Claire follows with 18. River Falls is in second place with 12 points and Oshkosh and Superior are tied for third with 13 each. Milwaukee has 14 points against its record, Eau Claire and Stevens Points each have 25. Platteville has 44 and Stout has 48.

Superior has shown the greatest power on offense in any single conference game played this year. The Yellowjackets won by 21 points against Stout scoring 27 to 6.

Kimberly Soccer Team Ties Appleton

The Kimberly soccer team gave the strong Appleton Sports Club team a surprise Sunday when they rallied in the second half to tie the score at two all. The game was a post season game played on the Kimberly court.

The Appleton club played an offensive game during the entire first half and had the Kimberly boys continually fighting off rushes at the goal. The Appleton team put over its first goal early in the first period and the second in the first part of the third period. Kimberly's offensive drive started in the latter part of the third period when within five minutes the fighting Holland: c put over two goals to tie the count. John Vandenberg and Jake Vandenberg scored the two Kimberly goals.

and if you think that's a love tap, try it.

Soon it was discerned that Lawrence was starting to return the rough stuff and from then on the game was a brawl. Rich held in the line of scrimmage, he used his fists in the pile ups and Green, big center, ran him a close second with a couple artistic bits of kneeling and an occasional leg in front of a runner plunging headfirst to the ground. Here again Faber seemed the principal victim of the dirty stuff, the youngster getting a jolt to his head and neck once that almost laid him cold and certainly might have resulted in serious hurt.

On another occasion Rich used a head lock on a Lawrence runner that would have done credit to Strangler Lewis. Several other Carroll tacklers had nailed the runner at other points on his anatomy but that did not seem to bother Rich.

As for Lawrence, well, we saw Ted Kramer get in some shots that left bloody noses in their wake, and jarred frames generally, and there were others of the boys who held and others who pushed someone's face further into the dirt.

And Ed Pfefferle staged a merry joust with DeSantis after the whistle had blown and Senior DeSantis swung a backhand blow and as that is illegal even in boxing the referee, or was it Werner Witte, waved the boys to their corners and announced the show was over for them Mr. Pfefferle was a martyr for the loss of DeSantis hurt Carroll more than Ptoff's loss hurt Lawrence.

In their fistfight efforts, and otherwise plain slugging both teams forgot a lot of the football technique they might otherwise have displayed. And that's bad, for both teams.

Where were the officials all this while? Oh, they were there but not very active. Referee Lloyd Scott apparently thought the activity centering at first when he neglected to call the boys and shortly thereafter they took things in their own hands and he'd had to fire the whole mess to accomplish anything.

Umpire Eck Edlitz of Oshkosh had to keep time and couldn't see any fighting—or was conveniently gazing upon the time piece when anything happened.

Incidentally he didn't miss a second either, for the game probably was one of the longest ever played here. Werner Witte, Appleton, was head linesman. He called a couple offside calls were proper, but when one rates third in a group of officials it isn't nice to be showing up the No. 1 and 2 guys.

Net statistics of the game show the two teams fairly well balanced. Lawrence gained 65 yards rushing the ball, Carroll 49; Lawrence lost 32 and Carroll 30. Lawrence attempted 16 passes, completed 8, missed up seven and had one intercepted. Carroll started 13, completed six and spilled seven. None was intercepted. Lawrence gained 82 yards on passes, Carroll 68.

Lawrence made 13 first down, four from scrimmage, four from penalties and five from passes. Carroll made eight, one from penalties, three from passes and four from scrimmage.

Carroll punted 12 times for an average of 34 yards thanks to a long 80 yard boot once. Lawrence booted 13 times for an average of 31 yards. There were a total of 60 yards assessed against Lawrence on penalties and 65 against Carroll. DeSantis was star ground garner for Carroll while Walters and Faber divided honors for Lawrence.

Wolves Expected To Down Tigers With No Trouble

Princeton Conceded to be Good but Not Too Tough for Michigan

BY WILLIAM WEEKES

Associated Press Sports Writer
CHICAGO — (P) — Along with being Michigan's annual football meeting with an eastern team, Princeton's invasion of Ann Arbor Saturday will provide a nice opportunity among old rivals and associates.

The much improved Tigers are being coached for the first year by H. O. (Fritz) Crisler and Elton E. (Tad) Wieman, who last year prepared a Minnesota team capable of holding the co-championship Michigan eleven to a 6 to 0 victory. Crisler, while at Chicago, played against Michigan, and Wieman, a former Michigan tackle and fullback, later developed several great Wolverine lines and for a time served as head coach.

Two other members of the Princeton staff, Earl Martineau and Campbell Dickson, are former Big Ten stars. Martineau was an all-American halfback at Minnesota in 1923, played against Coach Harry Kippie of Michigan, and for several years was backfield coach at Purdue. Dickson played at Chicago, and later coached at Minnesota.

Wolves to Take It Easy
With the balance of its Big Ten schedule coming up, the Wolverines may take it a little easier this week, and probably will be well satisfied with any kind of a victory.

Northwestern and Purdue, which engage tough competition in Minnesota and New York University, respectively, will go after their assignments with only one hard drill during the week. Coach Dick Hanley ordered a two day holiday for Northwestern's regulars, followed by a stiff workout Wednesday. The Wildcats will leave for Minneapolis Thursday. Purdue's varsity also will set its hardest drill Wednesday and will leave for New York Thursday.

Injuries have slowed up drills at Chicago and Minnesota. Pete Zimmer the sparkplug of the Maroon attack, and Bill Cassels, tackle, suffered painful injuries in the Indiana game, and will start against Illinois without much practice.

Badgers Work Hard

Hard work was the rule in the other camps. At Wisconsin, Coach Clarence Spears sought a replacement for Charles (Buckets) Goldenberg, tackle and halfback, who was declared ineligible for missing too many classes. Indiana's defeat by Chicago earned the Hoosiers a week of steady work before meeting Mississippi State, and Iowa was getting the same in the hope of making a good showing against George Washington at Washington, D. C., Friday night.

Ohio State attacked the job of preparing for Wisconsin with renewed vigor after holding Pittsburgh to a tie, and Illinois continued to search for more speed.

Ripon Prepares For Lawrence

Redmen and Vikings Clash In Feature of Crimson Homecoming

Ripon — The Ripon college eleven plays Lawrence Saturday as the feature number on Ripon's annual homecoming program. Redmen and Vikings promise to present one of those "nature in the raw is seldom mild" pictures.

Lawrence slung by the losses to Carroll, and Ripon smarting over the inability to score at least once in six chances against Beloit—both teams keyed because of traditional rivalry, here are the elements of an old fashioned battle.

The Ripon squad came through the scoreless tie against Beloit with some bruises but no serious injuries and should be in good shape for the homecoming game.

Several shifts may be made in the line before Coach Spears finds a combination that will suit him for the Ohio State game. Harvey Kranhold, center, may go back to his old post at guard but it is more probable that Milton Kummer will take the post, leaving Pacetti for tackle.

The Badgers worked on their aerial game as well as their running plays in the first practice of the week. Ohio State showed a good defense against Pitt last Saturday and it is probable that the Badgers will hurl more than their customary number of passes when they take the field at Columbus.

Several new plays which Coach Spears gave the Badgers last week were kept undercover during the Coe game but they will be released with all their effectiveness against the Buckeyes.

Heaviest Pro Gridder
Weighing 275 pounds, Harold Ely, tackle on the Chicago Bears professional eleven, and formerly of the University of Iowa, is said to be the heaviest gridder in the professional ranks.

Homer Peel, outfielder, drafted from Columbus by the Giants, will get his third chance in the majors next year.

Youthful Gridder Gives Blood, Then Plays a Full Game

Cleveland — (P) — Don't be too quick to criticize if the star player of your favorite football team sometime fails to show his usual prowess.

Maybe, like 18-year-old Lester Fulton, he's a little bit weak from loss of blood—blood given, just before the game, to save his father's life.

Lester's friends at Collinwood high school found out today he played the entire game against Cleveland Heights, recently, only a few hours after giving a pint of his blood to his father, ill in a hospital. And another pint, just four weeks earlier.

Lester's coach did not learn of the transfusions until after Collinwood, with young Fulton at left tackle throughout, came out of the game the victor. Fearing he would have been kept out of the game, Lester had kept the transfusions a secret.

The boy's father, Olin Fulton, who has been in a serious condition, will be able to leave the hospital Thursday, doctors said. And Lester will play some more football.

Petition Asks Stagg Remain

University of Chicago Grid-ers Want "Old Man" to Coach

Chicago — (P) — Virtually every member of the freshman football squad, who entered the University of Chicago "to play football under the 'old man,'" today had signed the petition asking that A. A. Stagg be retained as head football coach.

Along with the 39 yearlings who signed, 31 members of the varsity squad, 198 members of eleven fraternities, and 70 from other groups had added their names to the request.

The petition signed by the freshmen reads:

"We the undersigned freshmen entered the University of Chicago with the hope that we might play football under the 'old man.' The ideals for which he stands and the opportunity to come under their influence in associating with him, were deciding factors in making our choice.

"We feel we can gain much from playing under Mr. Stagg and hope the chance will not be taken away.

"Respectfully we ask that the 'old man' be retained as our coach."

The petition will be presented to President Robert Maynard Hutchins, the board of trustees, Thomas N. Metcalf, who will succeed Mr. Stagg as director of athletics when the latter is retired because of the 70 year age limit, next June, and the order of the "C", late this week.

Seek Tackle for Goldenberg's Post

"Buckets" Ineligible Because of Scholastic Difficulties

MADISON — (P) — The problem of finding a tackle to replace Buckets' Goldenberg in the right side of the line confronted Coach Clarence Spears yesterday as the Badgers opened practice for the Ohio State tilt.

Goldenberg became entangled with scholastic difficulties last week and was not in the Coe game and although there is still a ray of hope that he may be back in uniform it appears probable that he will be thrown for a loss by the faculty committee on eligibility.

The committee was scheduled to meet either today or tomorrow to consider Goldenberg's case, meanwhile Dr. Spears was training two men for his job in the event Goldenberg is ruled definitely ineligible. George Turner, end, was tried at tackle yesterday as was Mario Facetti, guard.

Several shifts may be made in the line before Coach Spears finds a combination that will suit him for the Ohio State game. Harvey Kranhold, center, may go back to his old post at guard but it is more probable that Milton Kummer will take the post, leaving Pacetti for tackle.

The Badgers worked on their aerial game as well as their running plays in the first practice of the week. Ohio State showed a good defense against Pitt last Saturday and it is probable that the Badgers will hurl more than their customary number of passes when they take the field at Columbus.

Several new plays which Coach Spears gave the Badgers last week were kept undercover during the Coe game but they will be released with all their effectiveness against the Buckeyes.

Heaviest Pro Gridder
Weighing 275 pounds, Harold Ely, tackle on the Chicago Bears professional eleven, and formerly of the University of Iowa, is said to be the heaviest gridder in the professional ranks.

George Beeby, 66-year-old Marshall, Okla., golfer, sank a No. 2 iron tee shot for a hole-in-one.

When Your Cough Hangs On, Mix This at Home

Saves $2. So Easy! No Cooking!

The best cough remedy that money could buy can easily be made at home. It costs very little, yet it's the most reliable, quick-acting medicine you ever used. The way it takes hold of stubborn coughs, giving immediate relief, is astonishing.

Any druggist can supply you with 2½ ounces of Pinex. Pour this into a pint bottle, and add granulated sugar syrup to make a full pint. To mix syrup, use 2 cups of sugar and one cup of water, and stir a few moments until dissolved. No cooking needed. It's no trouble at all, and saves two-thirds of the money a family usually spends on cough medicine. Keeps perfectly and tastes fine.

It is surprising how quickly this loosens the germ-laden phlegm, soothes and heals the inflamed membranes, clears the air passages, and thus ends a severe cough in a hurry.

Pinex is a compound of Norway Pine, in concentrated form, the most reliable healing agent for severe coughs. It is guaranteed to give prompt relief or money refunded.

Wriston Traces Development of State Department

Lawrence College Head Believes Navy Can be Reduced Further

Neenah—The development of the state department from its inception with the creation of the federal government, and its operation in reference to military affairs, was discussed by Dr. H. M. Wriston, president of Lawrence college, at a dinner meeting of the Neenah-Menasha chapter, Army Reserve officers association, at the North Shore country club Monday evening.

Dr. Wriston said he was opposed to the disarmament of the United States as an example to other nations to disarm, but said that he believed the navy could be still further reduced in the interest of economy, if other powers effected equal reductions. The United States army, he said, has been reduced to the point at which it practically has ceased to exist and any further reduction would be dangerous.

The speaker was engaged for several years in special research and study in the state department and in addition to his discussion of its operations relative to military affairs, he spoke briefly on the present international situation as it affects the United States.

Dr. Wriston, explaining the operation of the department showed the distinction between departmental and foreign service officers and compared its work under various secretaries of state. It is one of the few departments of the federal government in which the cost of operation has been growing smaller instead of larger.

Among out of town guests at the dinner were Maj. H. U. McCoskrie of Fond du Lac, Maj. C. P. Evers, Green Bay, regular army officers on duty with the organized reserves as instructors; Lt. Col. Robert Boardman, Oshkosh; and Maj. A. M. Fond du Lac, former state president of the Reserve officers association.

Menasha Points to Two Rivers Clash

Game Is Scheduled for Friday Evening at Butte des Morts Field

Menasha—Menasha high school gridders Monday resumed preparations for a Northeastern Wisconsin conference night game with the Two Rivers eleven on Butte des Morts field Friday evening.

The Caldemers have been inactive since Oct. 7 when they defeated Oconto Falls. Oct. 14 was on the schedule as an open date and a clash with Oconto, slated for Oct. 21, was cancelled. A game with Sturgeon Bay was arranged to fill the gap but that also was called off.

With only two first string performers out of the lineup, the Blues expected to be in top form Friday. Asmus or Sindahl will work in the pivot position, filling the vacancy left when Norman Schneider, regular center, was forced by illness to leave the squad more than two weeks ago.

The Menasha eleven is credited with three wins and one loss this season, but two of the victories were chalked up in non-league tilts. Following the Two Rivers game, the Blues will meet New London here Nov. 1 and Neenah here Nov. 11.

Sees Threat of War Between Japs, Chinese

Nationalist Leader Predicts Conflict if League's Efforts Fail

Washington — (P) — War between China and Japan was viewed as a possibility today by Dr. H. H. Kung, member of the Chinese Nationalist State council, should the league of nations fail to solve the Manchurian problem.

"We have always had great hopes in the nine power pact and the Kellogg anti-war treaty, but if peaceful means fail to protect China's sovereign rights the Japanese will have to reckon with our four hundred millions," Dr. Kung said in an interview.

The former nationalist minister of commerce and labor was here as chief of a Chinese industrial investigation commission.

Dr. Kung was accompanied by his wife, a sister of Madame Chiang Kai-Shek.

"The military party of Japan brought about the Mukden incident of September a year ago with the aim of testing world opinion," Dr. Kung said. "They called it a local affair. If the Japanese are successful in holding to that part of Manchuria which is now in their hands, this will be used by the militarists as part of their scheme toward world domination."

Blames Japanese responsible for creating a lawless condition in Manchuria which they themselves brought about.

"Manchuria was peaceful and thriving prior to the Mukden incident," he said. "By forcing out the Chinese civil and military authorities the Japanese found themselves with a situation on their hands which they could not control. Bandits naturally took advantage of the absence of our police and soldiers. Nanking was blamed."

Dr. Kung said his visit to the United States was not connected with the Manchurian incident, but was entirely economic. He added: "We all realize that nations are interdependent upon one another and no one can thrive at the expense of another. If a nation seeks its expansion by illegitimate means, it becomes a menace to the world. Equity and reciprocity and the sanctity of treaty commitment should be upheld at all costs in international relations as the progress of the world can only be assured when this is achieved. The reconstruction of China should constitute one of the much-sought opportunities for economic recovery."

Woman in Hysteria as Result of 2 Slayings

Mattoon, Ill. — (P) — Mrs. Inez Carrell, Chicago widow who slew her three children in a hotel bathtub, Saturday was in the throes of hysteria today, as she realized fully the results of her despondency over financial affairs.

Several attendants were required to hold her upon her hospital cot. Her condition caused Coroner F. S. Schilling to postpone her removal to the county jail in Charleston for several days.

Mrs. Carrell, who is 29, has been under arrest and constant guard since Saturday, when she was found attempting to commit suicide after she drowned her babies. State's Attorney C. M. Heinlein said

Was in poor health

"I was in poor health from female troubles. I heard different women speak about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I also read the booklets. I have used a number of bottles and I think it is fine. I am now the mother of two nice healthy kiddies. I feel well and strong and I recommend this medicine to other women who need it."

Death Is Believed Near in Shooting Of Seattle Woman

Authorities Fear They'll Never Learn Details In Inglis Tragedy

Seattle — (P) — Authorities today expressed fear Mary Nash may die before they learn the details of the fatal shooting of Col. William M. Inglis, 58, and the wounding of Miss Nash in their apartment Saturday night.

Physicians said peritonitis had developed in the abdominal wound of the 30-year-old woman. A blood transfusion was considered in an effort to prolong her life.

The wounded woman did not alter her story that the war veteran and Republican state leader had shot her and then turned the pistol upon himself. She said they had been drinking.

Miss Nash told officers she and Colonel Inglis were married and had been living in the apartment three years. Authorities have been unable to find any record of their marriage and investigators still were searching for some motive other than that he was "depressed," as described by Miss Nash.

She said he found his pistol, which she had hidden and suddenly appeared from behind a bureau, aiming the gun at her.

"I raised my left leg in an involuntary gesture of self-protection—I sort of scrunched up—and then he fired," she told detectives.

"This would account for the peculiar manner in which the bullet traveled through her leg and into her body," Detective Captain William Justus said.

Luke S. May, a private detective, was retained by the coroner to reconstruct the double shooting after doubt had been expressed by medical experts Inglis' wound was self-inflicted. But police detectives said they were satisfied Colonel Inglis had shot the young woman and then himself. This statement came after a postmortem examination showed powder marks inside the veterans' skull.

murder charges "no doubt would be placed against her soon." Authorities said they feared another suicide attempt.

Case of Tularemia is Reported in Appleton

A case of tularemia, disease contracted from rabbits, has been reported to Richard Groth, deputy health officer. While the disease is not easily transmitted from person to person, it is listed as a reportable disease by the state health board.

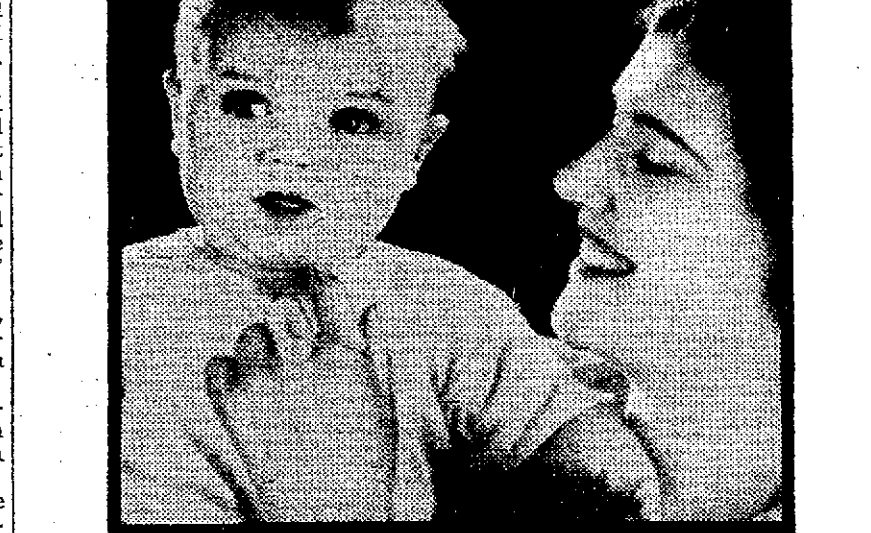

A comparatively new disease in Wisconsin, Appleton has had only a few cases. There were five cases in Wisconsin in 1928, 5 in 1929, 15 in 1930, 27 in 1931, and so far this year, 12. It came to Wisconsin from the west.

The disease is contracted chiefly through the skinning and cleaning of dead rabbits. If the germ gains entrance to the body through cut or scratch, it forms an ulcer, which is followed by the enlargement of the lymph glands, and chills, fever, aches and pains. The disease can assume three different forms, one of which, the typhoid type, is serious. A victim of the disease, while not confined to his bed for a long period, usually is unable to work for two or three months.

Doctors warn persons who are skinning or cleaning rabbits to wear rubber gloves, as the presence of the disease in a rabbit is not apparent until the organs are viewed.

Tularemia is transferred from one rabbit to another by the wood tick, and on occasions persons who have been bitten by woodticks have become victims of the disease.

A World's Record

MORE than three thousand births without a single loss of either mother or child! That is the official Platt County record of Dr. W. B. Caldwell, in fifty years' family practice in Illinois.

No wonder mothers have such entire confidence in giving little ones Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin!

If you have a baby, you have constant need of this wonderful preparation of pure pepsin, active senna, and fresh herbs. A child who gets this gentle stimulant for the stomach, liver and bowels is always healthier. It keeps children's delicate systems from clogging. It will overcome the most stubborn condition of constipation. It builds them up, and is nothing like the strong cathartics that sap their strength and energy.

A coated tongue or bad breath is the signal for a spoonful of Syrup Pepsin. Children take it readily, for it is really delicious in flavor. Taste it! Take Syrup Pepsin yourself, when sluggish or bilious, or you are troubled with sick headaches and no appetite. Take some for several days when run-down, and see how it picks you up.

It is a prescription preparation which every drug store has ready; in big bottles, just ask anywhere for Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin.

Nothing Venture

SYNOPSIS: Nan Weare, investigating with Ferdinand Francis the disappearance of Jervis Weare, her husband, again runs against a stone wall. She has learned only that Rosamund Carew and Robert Leonard, both of whom would gain by Jervis' death, each have good alibis. Fear for Jervis' life tortures Nan.

Chapter 40

NAN had braced herself against the possible ringing of the telephone bell so long she had lost account of time. It might have been half an hour, or three hours that she had been pacing unseeingly from end to end of the great drawing room at Weare—she had even persuaded herself that if the telephone did ring, it must be Jervis on the other end.

A prolonged and acute strain such as Nan was undergoing had the effect of etching out thoughts, fixing them as frost does a landscape sometimes, with an unnatural rigidity. The thoughts tended to separate from each other, and might boot up anywhere.

Nan had walked perhaps fifty times from the door to the table, from the table to the window, from the window to the table, and from the table back to the door, when she became aware of such an impression among her frozen thoughts.

At first her awareness of it was vague and inattentive, but gradually her attention began to focus itself. It puzzled her, and, her attention once focused, she felt a slight relief in having something definite to think about.

The impression was that of Mrs. Mellich looking at her with eyes like windows with the blinds pulled down. She had asked Mrs. Mellich whether she had seen or heard anything between Tuesday night and Wednesday morning. Mrs. Mellich had said no.

The very tone of that dry "No, ma'am" beat at Nan's ears. She had asked Mrs. Mellich to find out whether the maids had seen or heard anything; and it was while Mrs. Mellich was out of the room that the impression had been made—a slammed door, eyes with the blinds drawn down—something to hide. Mrs. Mellich came back, and reported that nobody had noticed anything.

Between two and half-past seven Jervis had walked out of the house. No one had seen or heard him go—no one had seen anything—no one had heard anything. Then why had Mrs. Mellich slammed her door and pulled down her blinds? The impression that she had done so was clear now that it had been at the time. The ice had set and defined it sharply.

Nan walked quickly to the hearth, and rang the bell. Then she faced round towards the door and waited until Alfred appeared.

"Will you ask Mrs. Mellich to come and speak to me here, please."

She would see Mrs. Mellich here. In the housekeeper's room, with its photographic enlargements of Mrs. Mellich's husband and Mrs. Mellich's respected and respectable parents, with Mrs. Mellich's sweetgrass workbox and Mrs. Mellich's photograph album on a small rosewood table, and a large illuminated text hanging over the mantelpiece, Nan had been made to feel an alien and an intruder.

The very china dogs, white poodles with baskets in their mouths, had gazed at her aloofly from either end of the mantelpiece. The old-fashioned wall-clock had a disappearing tick. Here she could meet Mrs. Mellich upon neutral ground. This was Jervis' room.

Alfred went away, and presently came back again. Mrs. Mellich had just stepped out.

"I would like to see her when she comes in."

Nan went back to her pacing. At six o'clock the telephone bell rang with a startling loudness and set her heart thumping. She was by the door. She turned, ran back, and picked up the receiver.

"Who's there?"

"Ferdinand."

"Yes?"

"Look here, Nan, there's something I want to follow up. I'm leaving in a hired car. It mayn't be anything at all, but I feel bound to follow it up."

"What is it?"

"It doesn't amount to much. There's a new garage the far side of Croyston. Well, the man says a little black car stopped to fill up at seven o'clock Wednesday morning. He was about because he was doing a job on his own car. He says there were two men in the car, and from the description one of them might be Jervis, but it's very vague."

"It was the other man who did the talking. He was the driver, and he'd red hair, so it oughtn't to be hard to trace him. He talked about going to New York, so I'm off looking for him. Don't you worry."

Nan felt dazed and weak. The receiver was heavy in her hand. She said,

"Jervis hasn't a small black car."

"The car was the other man's—he was driving. They may have met by appointment, or Jervis might simply be getting a lift—or it mayn't have been Jervis at all. The garage man only said, 'a gentleman with black hair.' That's about all he noticed—his first name isn't Sherlock."

Ferdinand rang off, and Nan began walking up and down again. She walked for a long while, and then sat down by the window and let time flow past her like a sluggish stream, so slow that through it moved, the movement was imperceptible.

At seven the dressing-bell rang, and Alfred came in. He hovered for a moment by the door and then came nearer. Mrs. Mellich had missed her bus from Croyston—and would it be convenient for Mrs. Weare to see her after dinner?

Nan said, "Yes—it doesn't matter," and Alfred withdrew.

When the dinner-bell rang, she realized that she had not changed. She went upstairs, washed her hands, and came down again to sit alone at the big table in the dining-room and take a spoonful from each dish that was offered to her.

Nan puts Mrs. Mellich on the grill tomorrow, with remarkable results.

Germain-Martin Is Early Riser

French Expert Sets Fast Pace in Financial Undertakings

Paris — (AP) — Prof. Louis Germain-Martin, the widely-travelled, highly trained financial expert of the Herriot government, is setting an "early bird" example to his colleagues these days.

If he arrives at his office later than 7 a. m. he reproaches himself and promises to do better on the morrow.

Other cabinet ministers have been lengthening their work days in anticipation of the assembling of parliament within the next few weeks, but with Germain-Martin it is a habit. He rises at 5 a. m. almost without fail and works for an hour in his study before going to his office.

He assumed the post of secretary of the treasury at a most difficult time. Shortly after he took office the state cash box ran dry.

Among his plans to rehabilitate the country's finances was a huge conversion scheme whereby $3,400,000,000 in government bonds were reissued at 4 1/2 per cent, replacing securities which had been drawing 6 and 7 per cent.

M. Germain-Martin's father was a senator and he gravitated into politics rather naturally. But he maintains his professorships in the law faculties of two schools of higher learning.

He has had many contacts abroad. In 1923 he lectured in half a dozen American cities for the Alliance Francaise and extended that tour into Canada. Between 1907 and 1911 he helped King Fuad liquidate a financial crisis in Egypt. Shortly after the war he visited China, Indo-China and Japan.

In 1923 and again in 1925 he was in Brazil as financial counselor and in 1927 Mexico sent for him.

He is a stocky man who seldom appears in society. His chief diversion is walking, but sometimes he goes fishing.

What? Not Really?

Chicago — How times change! Football coaches are now complaining that college students are too interested in their studies. The authority for this is Prof. W. Munro of the California Institute of Technology, who spoke before a committee appointed by the American Association of University Professors to make a study of college teaching.

Banditry Not Frowned Upon In Far East

Customs of China Described by Pastor at Rotary Meeting

(Special to Post-Crescent)

New London — Describing his work among natives of China during the past nine years, the Rev. H. Van Vree, addressed Rotarians at their service luncheon Monday. The Rev. Van Vree who was introduced by Dr. F. J. Pfeiffer, chairman of the program committee, has been in America since January. Of Dutch lineage, he came here with little knowledge of the English language.

He described the customs of China, such as marriage, and manner of dress. There is no courting in China, marriages being arranged by parents and often the participating parties in the marriage do not meet one another until the formal ceremony. The sentiment prevalent in our country regarding marriage, the speaker said, is almost entirely lacking although family pride and faithfulness is not entirely lacking, even though Chinese individual wealth is counted in the number of wives he is financially able to afford. Women, however, the missionary continued, are not counted as individuals, and girl children are regarded not at all. A Chinaman confronted with the question of how many children he has includes only the boys in his answer. This was shown, the speaker said, when a census showed China's population as 250 millions and a later one 500 million. The difference in figures was accounted for by the fact that in the first census no girls were counted, the Rev. Van Vree said.

Describes Banditry

The missionary also described China's system of banditry, stating that this was not in any manner considered outlawry. Any man with high ambition, the speaker pointed out, might without putting himself outside the bounds of society become a bandit. He, as a leader, and responsible only to a head mandarin, might organize an army and go out to any chosen community for plunder and loot. The mandarin would share in the spoils, as would the bandit leader and his subordinates. Being a bandit in China, pointed out the Rev. Van Vree, lends about the same amount of social prestige to the individual as does being a Rotarian in America.

The missionary described the splendid work which is being done in the missions of the country and displayed some of the embroidery, pen and ink and brush work done by the native children. Inordinate patience is shown in the manner in which these children work, pointed out the speaker, and there is little consideration of time. Often, he said, girls work on an intricate pattern in embroidery for more than a year and consider the result not by the time expended in its completion but in the perfection of the accomplishment.

The Rev. Van Vree already has appeared at the high school to give a short talk on the language of China and will appear in two future talks. He has also spoken to children of the parochial school. During the illness of the Rev. Paul Herb, he has been assisting with the work of the local parish.

Roarers Leaders in Lions Bowling Loop

Special to Post-Crescent

New London — Lions, bowling Monday night, turned in no a-fairing scores. Kellogg, with a 202 was high in the Growler-Tamers match, and Cline's 212 was high in the match between the Roarers and Twisters. Kellogg, with a 187 average, nosed out Cline, who averaged 185. The Twisters lost three to the Roarers and the Tamers took three from the Growlers. Results in the league show the Roarers ahead with 10 wins and five losses. The Twisters follow with eight and seven and the Growlers are one game behind. The Twisters have a good hold on the cellar position with 10 losses and five games won.

Debate Quality Of Modern Home

Mrs. E. N. Calef and Mrs. R. J. McMahon Discuss Question

New London — The question, "Resolved that the American home of today is as efficient in character building as the home of 30 years ago," was debated by Mrs. E. N. Calef and Mrs. R. J. McMahon, at the meeting of the Women's Study club at the home of Mrs. M. C. Treyster Monday afternoon. Mrs. Calef supported the affirmative.

Mrs. Calef admitted that many changes had come to the home in the past years, but maintained that these changes had not been losses. Automobiles and the radio, she said, had provided leisure and education to the modern home and had contributed much to the economic freedom of all members of the household. The study of nutrition and the scientific study of child nature had aided greatly in the up-building of today's home. She stated that all branches of education had been of great value and quoted famed educators who believe that characters are fully as strong and developed now and that there is a constant tendency upward.

Mrs. McMahon, defending the home of yesterday, described a home of a past period in which all members worked together with a single motive. Each member contributed with work and thought to the home's upbuilding, she maintained, and amusements and entertainments were found entirely within the home circle. At night, she continued, instead of each member leaving for some outside interest, the family gathered beneath the glow of a lamp and found content and completeness. She pointed out the restlessness and instability of the present home and stressed particularly the disregard of religion in the home of modern America.
